Joining Your Lake Association

Our Basic Membership dues are a reasonable $45/year. We are a nonprofit organization: our IRS approved 501-c-3 tax status makes all dues and donations tax deductible.

Volunteering for Your Lake Association

Help keep our lake great. Volunteer to help with water quality monitoring, monitor for invasive species, help with our membership drive, and more. It's a great way to make friends; meet influential people; and to have a good influence on your lake.

Household Hazardous Waste Collection

Leelanau County will hold a Household Hazardous Waste collection on Saturday, July 23, 2011 at the Leelanau County Government Center from 8:00 am to 2:00 p.m. Items accepted from Leelanau County households include: oil-based paints, unwanted medications, syringes & needles, aerosol sprays, lawn and garden chemicals & fertilizers, used motor oil, batteries, computers (monitors, printers, fax machines, etc.), small electric appliances. Go to www.leelanau.cc/solidwaste.asp for a complete list of items. Call 256-9812 to register for an appointment time. No charge, but RESERVATIONS ARE REQUIRED!

Township representatives are the Association’s eyes and ears, and sometimes voices, in the several townships in the Lake Leelanau watershed. It is important that riparian concerns be considered, and riparian interests be represented, in these townships’ deliberations. We need Township Representatives in all townships. We are actively seeking representatives in Centerville, Elmwood, and Suttons Bay.

The Water Safety Chair serves on the Board. The Water Safety Committee seeks to educate riparians to use the lake safely and to help them do so by helping provide buoys and other safety equipment.

Membership Report
Sera Thompson

The Membership Drive of the LLLA is underway. After drive chairs Richard and Sera Thompson met with Andy DuPont, president of the Glen Lake Association to learn and share ideas for membership, Larry Hauser, Communication Chair, designed a colorful new brochure for the LLLA.

As part of the fundraising for the Narrows Project, memberships were given to donors previously not members and letters were sent affirming membership status. In March 2011, one hundred and seventy letters were sent to prior LLLA members encouraging membership. As a result, dues were received for one hundred and thirty-eight memberships, bringing the current total number to four hundred and ten. Our work is not done.

Volunteer emissaries will be contacting prospective members, from lists provided by committee and board members, and those who attended the Legacy Event last fall. We will be implementing a different procedure for those whose memberships are about to expire, contacting them prior to the expiration date with a note card as a friendly reminder. Acknowledgments will also be simplified in order to streamline the overall membership process. Ultimately, all those who live on the lake, love the lake and use the lake, are prospective members. Each individual is a part of the neighborhoods and a larger community whose commitment is vital to the protection, maintenance, and improvement of the overall quality and health of Lake Leelanau.

Summer is here! As I write this in my air-conditioned house, it is 95 degrees outside on the 7th of June! I certainly don’t know what happened to spring – it has been very cold the past couple of months – but summer has arrived with a vengeance. How hot has it been this past week? The water temperature of the South Lake increased from 61 degrees to 71 degrees in just one week. Yes, summer has arrived.

Summer is the reason that many of us first came to Lake Leelanau and the reason many of us have purchased homes and cottages on our “little piece of heaven”. Summer brings expectations of beautiful weather with temperatures in the 70’s and lower 80’s (NOT 95!), sunny days with spectacular sunrises and sunsets and a magnificent lake to enjoy! Whether it is swimming, boating, water skiing, fishing, sailing or just sitting on a deck and looking at its beauty, Lake Leelanau has drawn all of us to the “little finger” of Michigan. Your Lake Association is dedicated to preserving our lake so that our children and grandchildren will continue to share our wonderful memories of being “up North”.

The Lake Leelanau Lake Association’s Annual Meeting will be held on Friday, July 8th at the Leland Public Library. Start your weekend with a wine and cheese party! A social time, with wine donated by local wineries and munchies, will begin at 5:30. The annual meeting will begin at 6:00. A raffle for door prizes will close the meeting. Please join us for this fun and informative event.

Don’t miss taking your children and grandchildren to Kids Fishing Day, sponsored by your Lake Association. It will be held from 11:00 to 3:00 on Sunday, June 26th at the former Veronica Valley Golf Course. With lots of fish to catch, along with hotdogs and pop, this is always a very popular event.

Your Lake Association Board of Directors is very pleased with the progress we have achieved over the past year. Our financial goals in support of the purchase of a development easement for The Narrows have almost been reached. Several of your Board Members attended training for monitoring water clarity and certain chemicals and nutrients in the lake. Several Board Members are working to improve water quality by working with local planning commissions to improve and expand options for septic systems. Board Members worked with the Leland Township Planning Commission to establish reasonable restrictions on new marinas in The Narrows. We continue to work on the issue of swimmer’s itch. More information will be available at the Annual Meeting. I hope to see you there!
Lake Monitoring

This spring five members of Lake Leelanau Lake Association participated in training at a workshop sponsored by Michigan’s Clean Water Corp (MiCorps). The workshop trained volunteers for MiCorps Cooperative Lakes Monitoring Program (CLMP). Bob Miller, Rick Thompson, Bruce Harlton, Monica Schroeder, and Wayne Swallow attended the training. We are taking measurements and samples at two locations, the deepest spots in north lake and south lake. Measurements include water clarity (secchi disk) weekly, dissolved oxygen and temperature profiles biweekly, chlorophyll sampling monthly and total phosphorus sampling in the spring and fall. The purpose of the program is to monitor long-term trends in the lake. The results of these efforts can be seen on the CLMP site once our data has been recorded. We will provide you link to the information later this year.

One early observation is that dissolved oxygen (DO) is depleted near the bottom in south lake. This is a condition that might be expected in late summer, but is unusual this early in the year. Measurements taken June 5th showed DO at 55 and 60 feet were below one part per million. DO levels for viable fish life is between 6 and 9. This is not good situation, since it excludes fish from inhabiting this area for extended periods.

We also ran into one problem at the very start of the program. We’re required to get a water sample (for total phosphorus) just after “ice-out” in April. We were able to get a sample from the south lake, but could not find anyone who had a boat in the water on north lake. If you believe you will have a boat in the water in April 2012, please contact Wayne Swallow (231-649-2087 or wayneswallow@att.net).

What’s in Your Wallet?

You either love or hate the Capital One ads for its “no hassle” reward cards. Its catch-phrase, “what’s in your wallet?”, certainly grabs your attention. The Capital One ad assures us that using its card on a regular basis will provide hassle-free rewards. Implied in the ad is the inference that we’ll get all kinds of hassle from competitor cards. Caring for our cottage provides a similar situation, i.e. “what’s in your water”. We work to make our cottage a showcase of lawn and greenery. Our friends tell us how beautiful it looks. But in accepting the accolades of guest admirers, are we aware what might be happening along our shoreline.? All that “TLC” may be resulting in more than just beautiful lawns and gardens.

The problem comes from phosphorus that is contained in fertilizers and groundwater flowing from septic systems. Phosphorus can originate from many sources: natural springs, rain, lawn fertilization, and poorly performing septic systems to name a few. Once in the water phosphorus can promote algae blooms since it is usually the limiting nutrient in a lake. Scientific literature estimates show that one pound of phosphorus can produce between 300 and 500 pounds of algae (wet weight) or 60 to 100 pounds (dry weight).

You can qualitatively assess if the activities at your home or cottage may be contributing excess phosphorus to the lake. Carefully examine the rocks along your shoreline for evidence of algae growth. Cladophora is usually the alga that grows in a nutrient rich situation. If you have a sandy shoreline simply place a couple rocks along the water’s edge to monitor for algae. The YouTube video at the web address provided at the end of this article offers a short primer.

Changes at the shoreline are important since they indicate something is changing. Have the rocks been relatively clear of algae in past years, and now you notice a pronounced growth covering the rocks? If you find that you have algae growing on your shoreline, LLLA can provide guidance on potential causes and remedies. Feel free to contact Wayne Swallow at wayneswallow@att.net or by phone at 231-649-2087.

LLL A Receives Grant

LLL A applied for a “startup” grant from Michigan Clean Water Corps (MiCorps) in February. We learned in early June that we were one of five recipients of the grant. The grant is to develop a plan for a volunteer program to monitor stream macroinvertebrates.

Do you and your friends have a favorite trout stream that flows into Lake Leelanau? Maybe you want to know more about the organisms that feed the fish? Or are you a teacher looking for enrichment projects for science students? Maybe your group is a garden club or the local ROMEO’s (retired ol’ men eating out).

If you are interested, feel free to, contact Wayne Swallow at wayneswallow@att.net or 231-649-2087 to learn more about the grant and possible participation. We’ll let you know about the progress in the fall newsletter.

Preventing & Relieving Swimmers Itch

adapted from the Lake Leelanau Landowner's Handbook
www.lakeleelanau.org/handbook/introduction.pdf

• Towel off vigorously immediately after swimming and change into clean dry clothes. Better yet, shower and towel off.
• Avoid swimming at midday when the cercaria are most active and in areas exposed to prolonged onshore winds (the larvae drift near the surface and accumulate in a wind).
• Swim in deeper water where the snails are unlikely to occur.
• Apply an oily substance such as baby oil or a waterproof sunscreen before entering the water. Waterproof insect repellent may offer still more protection.
• Avoid feeding waterfowl and attracting them into your swimming area. Their presence may contribute to the problem.
• In case of exposure, application of topical antihistamines, such as Benadryl, or topical hydrocortisone creams, help reduce inflammation and relieve itching.

Carnivorous Pitcher Plants in the Cedar River Preserve
Cedar River by Boat
Barbara Abbott

My sister Becky Abbott, (center-standing) my husband Larry Hauser, and I, signed up for one of this year’s BirdFest expeditions. We checked in at Fountain Point at 8:30 AM and met the other 6 bird enthusiasts who were also on our trip, as well as our bird guide Marlin Bussey (right foreground). Soon we all boarded a posh pontoon boat, skippered by Erik Zehender (standing far left), and headed down South Lake Leelanau towards the Cedar River.

The weather started out a bit on the cool side, and cloudy, but as the day wore on the sun appeared and warmed things up considerably. On the trip down the lake a blue heron flew overhead, we saw some wood ducks by the shore, and, as we approached the Cedar River, there was a pair of loons alternately preening and diving for food.

Once we headed up the Cedar River we entered a wild wonderland. There was not a sound to be heard except the chirping of birds (well, and one or two fixed-wing gas-guzzlers that passed by overhead). Our bird guide, with the help of several others on the trip who knew a lot about birds, were able to identify some of the species that were not well known to us novices – like the beautiful yellow warblers, at least one common yellow throat, and one or more eastern king birds who led us up the river. Lots of red-winged black birds criss-crossed our path, making sure we did not get out of line or interfere with their families.

We finally tore ourselves away, and headed back north, as rapidly as our desire not to get soaked would allow. All in all a wonderful and instructive morning!

The First Annual Leelanau Peninsula BirdFest
Kay Charter

The First Annual Leelanau Peninsula BirdFest was successful beyond our greatest hope. On Wednesday, a group of middle school students from St. Johns, MI began the morning with a classroom session at Saving Birds followed by a field trip on Charter Sanctuary. From here they went to Fountain Point for a presentation on the Weather Machine by Dave Barrons. The original plan was for the kids to lunch at Fountain Point where Dave was to do his presentation lakeside. Weather changed that and both lunch and the program were indoors.

The next day was warm and sunny, as were the following days – perfect for a birding festival. All of the festival’s field trips, evening programs and Saturday seminars were well attended. Many were overbooked. One of the most popular trips was the pontoon boat ride down the lake from Fountain Point into Leelanau Conservancy’s Cedar River Preserve. That trip was in such great demand that on one day we had to have a larger boat hauled in from a Traverse City rental. Even then we added a fourth trip on Saturday. A total of about thirty-five festival attendees were able to enjoy the beauty of Lake Leelanau on their way to some pretty good birding in the river.

Almost all of the more than 100 attendees said they would be back next year. Nothing could be better for a first year event than to have participants say that they can’t wait for the next one.

Thanks to all who worked hard to make the First Annual Leelanau BirdFest a great success!

Walleye Festival is Back

Pete Taylor

Over fifty sponsors, including the Lake Leelanau Lake Association, joined with the Lake Leelanau Community Association (LLCA) to hold a very successful Walleye Festival which took place on May 20-21 this year. Led by Festival chairman, Tony West, this was the second year of the event after several years of not having a festival.

Tony is very excited about this year’s event and had this to say: “The LLCA has worked hard to bring back the Lake Leelanau Walleye Festival to our wonderful community.” “This is the second year the Walleye Fest has been back and we were pleased with the great turnout, and are looking forward to the future years and what it can become,” he continued.  West added, “the LLCA wants to send a special thank you to all of our local sponsors who helped make this years festival a success.”

According to West, all sponsors will be posted on the LLCA website (www.lakeleelanaumi.com) within the next few weeks: 50 teams/boats competed in this year’s tournament and 16 golf teams at the Walleye Festival Golf outing on Friday at Sugar Loaf the Old Course. There were 45 parade entries at the parade on Saturday, and “tons of fun memories captured from other events and vendors at the Festival.” $2,500 in cash prizes were paid out, in 5 places, to the winning fishing teams. Details of this will also be posted on the LCCA website.”

A big thank you goes out from members of our Fishing Committee and our whole Association to Tony West and the LLCA for the great job they did on this year's festival. If you were unable to attend this year, be sure to take time next year to enjoy this fun-filled event.

Oven Poached Walleye with Wild Leeks & Fresh Herbs

Larry Hauser

INGREDIENTS:  2 walleye filets; 1/2 c. white wine; 1/2c diced wild leek bulbs (or substitute domesticated leeks + 1-2 cloves garlic); 1/4 c. freshly chopped tarragon + thyme (“when in doubt, use thyme”); salt & freshly ground black pepper; 2 T top shelf olive oil; 1/2 c. diced parsley + chives; lemon wedges.

ASSEMBLY:  Preheat oven to 350F. Place the filets in a lightly greased 9x12 glass pan or other suitably sized baking dish. Pour the wine over the fish. Cover the fish with the diced leeks and the thyme/tarragon mixture. Salt & pepper to taste. Drizzle with the olive oil. Cover with foil. Bake for around 30 minutes. Garnish with the chive/parsley mixture and serve with the lemon wedges on the side.

Fifth Annual Legacy Circle Celebration

SAVE THE DATE: September 10, 2011

Legacy members will receive an invitation mid-August for the fifth annual Legacy Circle Celebration event. Mark your calendar in advance and save this date so you can join us for a casual gathering of dedicated Lake Association members.

We’ve experienced life on Lake Leelanau in three historic homes and a lakeside resort. Now we’ll have a Barn Party on South Lake Leelanau at Crooked Creek Farm where parking is easy, the grounds are beautiful, and the food and wine will be exceptional. Crooked Creek has 1080 feet of Lake Leelanau frontage on 120 acres, complete with Victorian farmhouse. So make certain your membership is up-to-date, and join us in another celebration of life on the lake.

Steve and Pam Kozelko have graciously offered their “Crooked Creek” barn and grounds for our event, which will enable guests to wander down to their beautiful shoreline, or cozy up to the bar for wonderful conversation. The LLLA Communications Committee is still planning this year’s event with hopes to include live music.

The Legacy Circle includes Association members who join/renew at the Kayaker ($100), Runabout ($250) and Cruiser ($500) levels. Joining the Association at one of these levels gives additional support to our Lake Association and gets your invited to this year's Legacy Circle Celebration at Crooked Creek.

Are you a Basic member who would like to attend? You can upgrade your membership to any of these Legacy Circle categories by enclosing the difference between the Basic dues amount of $45 you have already paid and dues at the level of membership you desire. To upgrade from Basic to Kayaker, for instance, would require an additional $55 donation. Use the enclosed payment envelope to remit your payment. Use the “Comments” part of the form to make your wishes clear.

We hope you will join us!
7th Annual Kids' Fishing Day: Sunday, June 26

Started in 2005 as a joint project between the Lake Association and the Michigan DNR, Kids Fishing Day has grown to where last year over 600 kids and parents enjoyed a day of family fun and fishing at beautiful Veronica Valley Park in Leelanau County. Today the event is backed by a dedicated group of 18 Sponsors and Supporters (listed below). Kids Fishing Day is FREE to all and features fishing for over 1,500 bluegills that are stocked in the pond. Bait and tackle, hotdogs and pop, “fish painting,” nature displays, and more are all provided. As an added treat this year, the Wings of Wonder Raptor Show will be here to entertain and educate the kids about hawks, owls and other wild birds.

The fun starts at 11a.m. and runs to 3p.m. So grab your kids, grandkids, neighbor kids, or any other kids, and come out and join us for a magical day of family fun and fishing. Bring rods and reels if you have them, if you don’t we have some for you to use. If you have any questions, or you are interested in helping at Kids Fishing Day, please contact: Pete Taylor, phone 231-590-3309 or email: pnmtaylor@yahoo.com
